"One day the AIs are going to look back on us the same way we look at fossil skeletons on the plains of Africa. An upright ape living in dust with crude language and tools, all set for extinction." – Nathan

This quote from Nathan really stuck with me because it's kind of scary. He's saying that AI might become so advanced that they'll see humans as primitive and outdated, like we're just a stepping stone in evolution. This made me realize how powerful AI could become if we're not careful. It connects to my values because I believe we should develop technology that works alongside humans, not something that replaces us or sees us as inferior.
